

Gender Sensitivity Cell Report 2022-2023

Conclusion:

As the course duration was three months with 3 credits 50 marks of practical and 25 marks of practical Theory, 55 lectures with hand on session where conducted from 1 October 2022 to 6 January 2023. 31 student enrolled in the course during 2022 to 2023 from Arts Commerce and science faculty. Students attend All sessions, pronunciations practical and completed given task and practices taste. Final exam was conducted on 9th January 2023. All admitted students cleared the final examination and score good marks. Certificate issued to all the students.

It is the motivation of the respected principal Dr. G. N. Shinde Sir, for encouraging the students. Discourse will be helpful for the students after learning all basics of self grooming and makeover, in present Era self grooming and makeover is part of our day to day life and it is useful in individual and social various programs festivals, it is helpful to us to build up our confidence. Beneficiaries can start their own business after getting fundamental knowledge and skills through this course. It requires less capital to set up and industry. By updating their skills they can make bright future. All participated students enjoyed this course.

The course coordinator professor Dr. Kavita sonkamble, the course trainer madam Rupali Bhole, all members of gender sensitivity cell, with the help of teaching and non teaching faculty course over in January 2023. The second batch of the scores started on 10/01/2023. There were 27 students in this batch who successfully completed the course.

Syllabus and evaluation details: